

Accomac county in the commonwealth of Virginia, made a favorable report thereon

The said bill was then read, the first time.

Mr. Forrest, from the committee made an unfavorable report upon the bill entitled, an act to reduce into one act, the several acts of Assembly relating to the civil jurisdiction of Justices of the Peace, and to repeal the acts of Assembly therein mentioned.

The said bill was then read a second, and by special order, a third time, and rejected.

Mr. Heath, from the committee to whom was re-committed the bill entitled, an act to authorise the issuing of attachments by Justices of the Peace for the recovery of small debts, made an unfavorable report thereon.

The said bill was then read the first time, and ordered to lie on the table.

The bill entitled, an act for the relief of Mary Debruler, of Frederick county, was read a third time and passed.

Mr. Heath, from the committee to whom was referred the bill entitled, an act to authorise the building of a bridge across the Severn River from a point on the land of Thomas R. Cross to the county road on the opposite shore, leading to Ashpaws landing on Marley Creek, reported that the committee had had said bill under consideration, and that a majority of said committee had directed him to say, they were of opinion the bill ought to pass.

The said bill was then read a second time.

The resolution concerning Henry Harding, late collector of Montgomery county, was read a third time and assented to.

The President laid before the Senate a communication from the Trustees of the Maryland College formerly the Harford county Accademy, which was read and referred to the consideration of the House of Delegates.

The Senate ajourned until Monday morning 10 o'clock.

Monday February, 23, 1829.

The Senate met. Present the same members as on Saturday. The proceedings of Saturday were read.

The bill entitled, an act for the relief of Mary Debruler, of Frederick county,

And the bill entitled, a supplement to the act entitled, an act for the relief of the poor of Montgomery and Harford counties, severally passed by the Senate on Saturday and